

Suddenly I heard a noise coming from outside. It sounded like a big crash. This really scared me...I peaked out of the window and saw a humongous dark, black and smokey shadow. It was starting right into my eyes. Suddenly the smokey shadow vanished into thin air. Alice S4

I ventured to the mountain and saw Tom there. He gave me extra training every night - he gave me spy gear and robotic pets (cats and dogs). I had a gymnastics pole that would help me flip over. He trained and motivated me and told me to trust my instincts. Kashvi S4

I opened my eyes. In horror, I saw a might jaguar staring down at me. I was scared to move - I was frozen to a vine. Then, I nervously back away from the jaguar and looked around me to see where I was. There were huge vines everywhere, hanging from tree to tree and I could hear monkeys howling in the distance and crickets chirping all around me. I was in the jungle... Nancy M4

Some of my ancient Egyptian kittens escaped! They would cause major mayhem. My kittens have magic powers - their favourite trick is to summon pharoes to be their slaves by getting them to eternally bring them food and treats. Today, they were up to no good again. Seb S3

Right now, I am in my treehouse trying to escape the batter and clatter of the house and get some peace and quiet. You might be wondering why I am so upset that I left the door open. Well, this door is a metaphorical door that I keep tightly shut whenever someone is talking to me so I can't make any friends. It is easier for people to make you upset when they are friends with you. Today I forgot to shut the door...! Lillemo M4

Alex was still in bed when his mother left the house at six o'clock, he was still asleep luckily. Startled, he woke up about fifteen minutes later in a hard, lumpy bed. Alex got up stiffly and went into his mother's bedroom and saw his mother had gone! Petrified, he leapt down the slippery stairs and found himself striding out of the front door. He saw the gigantic city of Manour in the middle of the Amazon. Jonathan S3
